2026-2027 Degree Program Planning Guide for Specialist Students

Thank you for choosing Florida State University to pursue your graduate studies! The Anne Spencer Daves College of Education, Health, and Human Sciences is home to 15 specialist programs and includes students from 44 countries. This guide is to help you navigate the various College and University requirements for the specialist degree at Florida State. Each academic department/program also publishes a Graduate Student Handbook to help familiarize you with department and program level requirements and milestones. We encourage you to meet with your major professor/advisor on a regular basis to plan your graduate studies. It is important to note that a specialist degree is an advanced master's degree. Students enrolled in specialist degree programs are subject to University policies for master's degree programs. If you have any questions regarding the information in this guide, please contact Lisa Beverly in the Office of Academic Services and Intern Support – also known as OASIS – at lbeverly@fsu.edu or (850) 644-3760.

SECTION I: MAJOR MILESTONE REQUIREMENTS

1. Major Professor: At the earliest opportunity, the student should follow the convention of the major department or college to identify the major professor, who will serve as the student's adviser and supervisor. Designation of the major professor requires the mutual consent of the student, department chair, and professor involved. The major professor must hold Graduate Faculty Status (GFS) or Co-Directive Status.
2. Supervisory Committee: A Specialist's degree supervisory committee must be designated for all thesis-track students and may be designated for non-thesis track students at the option of the department.

Thesis students and students in academic programs that require a supervisory committee: The supervisory committee should be formed within the first semester. When selecting the members of your supervisory committee, students need the consent of the major professor. The Specialist's supervisory committee consists of a minimum of three members. Two members, including the major professor, must be from the major in which the student will receive a degree. The third member may be from the major department or another department within the college.

The supervisory committee for thesis students must consist of a minimum of three members of the faculty who have Graduate Faculty Status, one of whom is designated the major professor. All additional members of the committee must hold Graduate Faculty Status or (in the case of specialized or non-tenure track faculty) Co-Doctoral or Co-Specialist's Directive status.

If the student wishes to revise the supervisory committee at any time before or after a program of study is submitted, an Anne Spencer Daves College of Education, Health, and Human Sciences Graduate Supervisory Committee Revision form must be submitted to the Office of Academic Services and Intern Support (OASIS). The form can be found at <https://annescollege.fsu.edu/oasis/graduate-students>.

3. Program of Study: A signed/approved program of study must be on file in The Office of Academic Services and Intern Support (OASIS) by the end of the second semester of enrollment. It is necessary to list the semesters and years courses were taken in chronological order (past to present) on the form to determine that university, department, and college requirements will be met. Program of study form templates may be found at <https://annescollege.fsu.edu/oasis/graduate-students>.

Some departments/programs may require an earlier program of study submission. Consult your department/program Graduate Handbook for program-specific requirements.

It is the student's responsibility to make sure that all degree requirements are completed.

Students must maintain a 3.0 cumulative graduate GPA to remain in good academic standing.

It is the student's responsibility to make sure that all degree requirements are completed.

- 4. Program Type: There is one type of Specialist's degree in the College, the coursework track program. Coursework track programs typically culminate with a Specialist's Comprehensive Exam, a Capstone Course, or a Portfolio Defense in the final semester.

Note: A Specialist's degree is an advanced master's degree. Completion of a master's degree is required for Specialist degree conferral.

5. Minimum University Semester Hour Degree Requirements:

Course Track Specialist

30 graduate level credit hours total

21 graduate level credit hours must be letter grade

6. Limitations

- a) Credit earned more than seven (7) years prior to graduation may not be used towards the degree.
- b) Credit earned as a non-degree seeking student does not carry graduate degree credit. However, if approved by a student's supervisory committee, up to 12 semester hours of non-degree seeking student credit graded "B" or better may be used. It is the student's responsibility to list such non-degree seeking student credit on the program of study.
- c) A maximum of six (6) semester hours of transfer credit may be used towards a graduate degree. Departments will evaluate all transfer credit. It is the student's responsibility to list such transfer credit on the program of study and to provide an official transcript from the institution(s).
- d) Please NOTE: No student may be awarded more than 12 hours of combined non-degree student and/or transfer credit. This means that a student wishing to post 6 hours of graduate credit, which has not been posted under a previous degree, can be awarded no more than 6 hours of non-degree student credit.
- e) Credit hours for courses graded below "C-" will not apply toward the degree, but are computed in the graduate GPA.
- f) Undergraduate-level coursework cannot be used to meet the minimum graduate credit hour requirement or the minimum graduate GPA. Coursework taken at the 4000-level is supplemental to degree requirements and does not count in the minimum total hour distribution or graduate GPA calculation.
- g) Supervised research credit: maximum 3 semester hours.
- h) Supervised teaching credit: maximum 3 semester hours.

7. Student Course Loads and Enrollment

University graduate student enrollment and course load policies are provided in the "Registration" section of the University Graduate Bulletin:

<https://bulletin.fsu.edu/policy/acad-regs/registering>. Please contact your department/program for questions.

Course Load

The standard full-time load for graduate students for certification purposes is nine (9) credit hours per semester, unless otherwise noted. Some departments/programs may permit students to register for less than full-time enrollment, also called an underload. This part-time underload registration may consist of individualized graduate credit hours and must be initiated by the student and approved by the student's faculty advisor.

A graduate student may not carry more than 15 credit hours per semester without obtaining permission. An enrollment overload may be permitted by the student's academic dean or designee.

Specialist students completing a coursework-only program need to meet full-time or minimum enrollment requirements as described above. Before registering, the student must consult with the major professor/advisor as to the proportion of time to be devoted to project work.

8. Specialist's students in most programs must register for and successfully complete either the Specialist's Comprehensive Exam, Specialist's Portfolio Defense, or a Capstone Course in order to graduate, if a capstone/comprehensive requirement is included in the degree program. (See the department/program-specific Graduate Handbook.)
9. Graduation: Apply online for graduation in Student Central (my.fsu.edu) prior to the application deadline of the semester in which graduation is planned. Students must apply to graduate even if they do not intend to participate in the Commencement Ceremony. Notify the OASIS Assistant Director for Graduate Academic and Student Services if you cannot complete the degree requirements during the semester for which you have applied.

See <https://registrar.fsu.edu/calendar/> for current semester deadlines.

For instructions on applying online to graduate, follow the How to Apply to Graduate steps at <https://registrar.fsu.edu/training/graduation-apply>.

For more information visit the Registrar's Graduation Information website, <http://registrar.fsu.edu/graduation/checklist>.

Commencement Ceremony

Participation in Commencement exercises is not a guarantee of degree conferral. Students who wish to apply to participate one semester early in a Commencement Ceremony must submit a request to "walk early" to the Registrar's Graduation and Commencement Services Office via email at graduation@fsu.edu.

See the Final Term Checklist in Section II of this guide for further information.

Degree Posting

Degree clearances for graduation applicants require approval of both the academic dean (OASIS) and the Registrar's Office. Degree clearances are completed approximately five to six weeks after the end of the semester.

Florida State University will post degrees on transcripts approximately five to six weeks after the end of the semester of degree conferral. Degree posting dates are found on the Graduation website, <https://registrar.fsu.edu/graduation/grad-calendar>. Do not order your official transcripts until the applicable degree posting date.

Important: Students cannot receive verification of degree completion from the University for employers, or for other agencies, until the degree posting date. No exceptions.

Diplomas

After degree clearances are completed by both the academic dean (OASIS) and the Registrar's Office, your diploma will be mailed to you. Please allow six to eight weeks after the semester ends for your diploma to arrive. If you have additional questions, please call the Registrar's Office at (850) 644-1050.

Detailed information about Commencement and applications to graduate is found at <https://registrar.fsu.edu/graduation/>.

10. Time Limit for Specialist's Degree Completion: The work for the specialist's degree must be completed within seven years from the first semester a student enrolls in an FSU graduate course that may be counted toward the graduate degree. If the specialist's degree is not completed within seven years from the first semester a student enrolls in an FSU graduate course that may be counted toward the graduate degree, and the program or Department Chair does not choose to approve an Extension of Time (EOT), then the student may no longer be enrolled in that program or at Florida State University.

Any graduate work transferred from another institution must have commenced no more than seven years prior to completion of the degree for the credits to be applicable to the specialist's degree. If the specialist's degree is not completed within seven years from the time the student first registers for graduate credit, and the program and/or Department Chair does not choose to approve an Extension of Time (EOT), then the student may no longer be enrolled in that program or at Florida State University.

If an Extension of Time (EOT) is supported by the major professor(s), then the University Time Extension Request form must be completed and submitted for approvals. Forms can be found on The Graduate School website <https://gradschool.fsu.edu/forms>.

See the appropriate Final Term Checklist (course track or thesis track) in Sections II and II of this guide for further information.

11. Please keep a copy of any document you submit to your department or OASIS.

SECTION II: COURSE TRACK FINAL TERM CHECKLIST (NON-THESIS)

If you registered for Specialist's Comprehensive Exam/Portfolio Defense in a previous semester and received an incomplete ("I") grade, the course must be dropped. You must then register for the course again in the term in which the requirement is completed.
5. If you have changed the major from a Doctoral degree to a Specialist's Degree, please contact the OASIS Assistant Director for Graduate Studies to discuss requirements. You will need to complete and submit a new Specialist's program of study form.

Specialist's Comprehensive Exam/Portfolio Defense

Registration

The Enrollment Appointments calendar is published once each semester. It details the various periods during which you can enroll for classes. Visit https://registrar.fsu.edu/registration_guide/ and click on Enrollment Appointments for the applicable semester.

Drop/Add

During the first four days of classes, individual courses may be added, dropped, or sections of a course changed. Students are financially liable for all courses appearing on their schedule after the fourth day of classes. To add courses after the first four days of classes may require the academic dean's approval. Courses dropped during this period do not appear on the student's transcript. Courses may be dropped through the seventh week of classes with the exception of mandated college preparatory courses, freshman composition, and courses involved in allegations of academic dishonesty; however, tuition charges remain. Students are tuition/fee liable for all coursework remaining on their schedules after the drop/add deadline each term. Students are grade liable for coursework remaining on their schedules after the seventh week deadline of a given term. (See the University Academic Calendar for semester deadlines: <https://registrar.fsu.edu/bulletins/calendar>.)

Course Drops, Withdrawals, and Leave of Absence Requests

The Anne Spencer Daves College of Education, Health, and Human Sciences (Anne's College) has created a website to help students navigate the course drop, withdrawal, and Leave of Absence processes at <https://annescollege.fsu.edu/current-students/office-academic-services-and-intern-support-oasis/drops-withdrawals>. While processes may be similar to other units across campus, information on this page applies specifically to degree-seeking students with a primary major in Anne's College.

Withdrawal: Every college student, at some point, faces the possibility of enduring a hardship. When a student's enrollment is unexpectedly interrupted due to unforeseen circumstances (personal, family, medical or mental health reasons, and/or other crisis) applying for a withdrawal (from all classes) may be an option. Students may be tuition/fee liable and/or grade liable for coursework, even if approved for a withdrawal. It is important to note semester deadlines when applying for a withdrawal: <https://dsst.fsu.edu/withdrawal>.

If a withdrawal is deemed necessary, Anne's College graduate students must contact the Assistant Director for Graduate Studies in OASIS to discuss the implications and viability of withdrawing, as well as any alternative academic options that may exist.

To discontinue enrollment in all coursework during a current semester after the drop/add deadline, students must officially withdraw (from all classes) through the online application process offered through the University Office of Withdrawal Services.

Medical/Mental Health Withdrawal: Students who have experienced a severe medical and/or mental health problem that caused the student to miss several classes and/or take a failing grade, may qualify to receive a medical/mental health withdrawal. However, the student's health problems must meet certain criteria and be documented to be evaluated.

Medical withdrawal (all courses removed) will be approved only for severe illnesses or injuries of an acute emergency nature that incapacitates the student. Mental health withdrawals (MHW) will be approved for severe psychological conditions requiring hospitalization or intensive outpatient care for an extended period of time. A MHW will be considered for a traumatic event (e.g. death of a close friend or family member, acts of violence, etc.) that clearly impedes the student's ability to perform in the usual manner. Documentation of counseling sessions, whether at the Counseling and Psychological Services or another facility, must be submitted.

For detailed information on applying for a withdrawal, visit <https://dsst.fsu.edu/withdrawal>. Answers to frequently asked questions about applying for a withdrawal can be found at <https://dsst.fsu.edu/withdrawal/faqs>.

Leave of Absence: Under special circumstances, graduate students may apply for a leave of absence from the university for a specific period of two to three consecutive future semesters (includes summer term). The circumstances justifying a leave include, but are not limited to, personal or family medical conditions, call to active military duty, parental leave, death in immediate family, or completion of an off-campus internship. It is advised that the student consult with his/her major professor, advisor, or graduate coordinator to determine what constitutes a valid justification for a leave of absence. The Leave of Absence application is found at <https://gradschool.fsu.edu/graduate-student-forms>.

It is recommended that international students first consult with the Center for Global Engagement to discuss how a leave of absence affects their immigration status.

Case Management Services

Case Management Services is available to assist with questions, and to take referrals from any faculty, staff, family, friend, or community member concerned about an individual's well-being. The Case Manager works with individuals to provide emotional support, counseling, advocacy, and to identify immediate needs, making appropriate referrals to campus and community resources. Cases are monitored, as needed, to ensure that individuals receive the support necessary to improve their life situation. Visit <https://dsst.fsu.edu/cms> for more information.

SECTION V: ACADEMIC STANDING AND PROFESSIONAL EXPECTATIONS

E-Mail Policy

The official method of communication at Florida State University is your FSU e-mail account. To stay informed and aware, you are required to set up and maintain your student account and check it three times per week. If you choose to have your official FSU student email account forwarded to another e-mail account, you are still held responsible for all information distributed by the University to your FSU account.

Academic Standing and Retention

The University reserves the right to exclude at any time a student whose conduct is deemed improper or prejudicial to the interest of the University community or whose academic performance is substandard, regardless of grade point average (GPA). Students in graduate or professional degree programs, excluding College of Law students and MD candidates in the College of Medicine, whose cumulative grade point average for graduate courses (5000 and above) taken at Florida State University falls below 3.0 at the end of a term (not counting courses for which "S" or "U" grades may be given) will be considered not in good standing by the University and will be placed on academic probation. If a 3.0 cumulative graduate grade point average is not attained by the end of the next full term of enrollment, the student will be placed on academic dismissal. See <https://bulletin.fsu.edu/policy/acad-regs/standing-retention#graduate-academic-standing-and-retention>.

Academic Dismissals for GPA

Academic dismissal constitutes a separation of the student from the University for academic reasons. Students on dismissal will not be permitted to register for graduate study, including registering as a non-degree student.

However, at the time of dismissal, the major professor and/or department chair/director may petition the academic dean for consideration of special circumstances that the professor thinks constitute justification for an exception to this regulation, but under no circumstances will a student be allowed more than one additional term of probation after reinstatement. Owing to the differential uses of the designation, "academic probation" shall not appear on permanent records of regular graduate students. After one probationary period, however, a student whose average falls within the probationary range will receive automatic dismissal. Consideration of the academic dismissal takes priority over any readmission application and must be resolved first. Students on dismissal are not eligible for readmission or the readmission appeal process unless they have first been reinstated by the academic dean. The academic dean is the final authority for reinstatement considerations. Anne's College graduate students seeking reinstatement after academic dismissal must complete the Request for Immediate Reinstatement After Academic Dismissal form with their major professor. The form is found on the OASIS forms website: <https://annescollege.fsu.edu/oasis/graduate-students>. The academic dean is the final authority for reinstatement considerations.

Incomplete Courses

Incomplete ("I") grades will be recorded only in exceptional cases when a student, who has completed a substantial portion of the course and who is otherwise passing, is unable to complete a well-defined portion of a course for reasons beyond the student's control. Students in these circumstances must petition the instructor and should be prepared to present documentation that substantiates their case. Incomplete grades will not be granted in order to allow students to do extra coursework in an effort to increase their grade.

In order to assign an incomplete, the instructor will indicate a time frame for resolution of the grade and the default grade to be assigned if the student does not complete the remaining academic work. It is the student's responsibility to complete the remaining academic work within the agreed-upon time frame. A completed Incomplete Grade Agreement Form must be submitted to the academic department/program.

University Policy for Dismissing a Graduate Student for Reasons Other Than GPA

The University reserves the right to dismiss graduate students and terminate their enrollment in an academic program based on a number of different criteria, beyond that of GPA alone. Oversight is provided by The Graduate School, Office of Faculty Development and Advancement, and Office of the Registrar. Additional details on the steps involved in the process are available for faculty and administrators from the Office of Faculty Development and Advancement and for graduate students at the Graduate School.

Dismissed students will not be permitted to register for further graduate study, including registering as non-degree students, in the degree program or college from which they had enrollment terminated.

Graduate students who have been dismissed from one degree program may seek admission to another degree program but will not be readmitted or allowed to add the dismissed degree program back as a second major or degree. This includes seeking admission into a different degree program that shared a joint pathway with the dismissed degree program.

Program terminations (dismissal for a reason other than GPA) are generally identified by the faculty with support from the Department Chair (or unit head) in the department/unit or single-unit college level and may occur for a number of different reasons.

As specified by university policy, Graduate policy, or within the unit's Graduate Student handbook, reasons may include but are not limited to:

- Inability to conduct independent research in a fashion appropriate with the accepted norms of a discipline.
- Inability to function within a team environment to the extent that it negatively affects the learning, practice and/or research of fellow graduate students.
- Behavior that does not meet the professional standards of a discipline (typically clinical, social work or school settings, but also including Motion Picture Arts, internship work, etc.).
- Failure to meet artistic or creative performance standards.
- Failure to be approved for an Extension of Time (EOT).

- Failure to complete important degree milestone requirements within a reasonable period of time.
- Inability to pass the doctoral diagnostic exam, preliminary exam for admission to candidacy in, etc.
- Failure to complete the doctoral degree or make timely progress towards the research or writing of their treatise or dissertation.
- Failure to complete the master's degree or make timely progress towards the research or writing of their thesis, or the production of their thesis-equivalent creative project.

In addition, please note that suspension or expulsion from the university may result if a student is found responsible in a formal Academic Honor Policy (AHP) hearing for an egregious AHP violation, or as an outcome from a Student Conduct Code charge for which a student is found responsible.

Graduate program handbooks MUST provide information about failure to meet specific milestone or behavioral requirements. Students who are dismissed for reasons other than grades may follow the General Academic Appeals process if they have evidence that academic regulations and procedures have been improperly applied.

Graduate Student Ombuds Website

Reminder: The University Graduate Ombuds website outlines the process that a graduate student must follow prior to meeting with an ombudsperson in The Graduate School. The website provides a general description of what the role of the ombudsperson is, as well as offers some useful links, resources, and contact information for those navigating the process. For additional information visit: <https://studentombuds.fsu.edu/>.
